A CREATIVE, INNOVATIVE AND HARMONIOUS MUIC

As we stand on the threshold of the new year, we reflect on the phenomenal achievements of our students in a variety of disciplines from business case competitions that put critical thinking to the test, to feats of science and creativity that create new and useful products for society, to activities that demand the integration of skills in communication with global citizenship to finally using design to create aesthetics that appeal and uplift the spirits of people. Each activity, award, and recognition is a testament to the student's unwavering dedication to their discipline. That alone makes them champions in their own rights and their pursuit of excellence serves both as an inspiration and an aspiration for all of us to endeavor to do the same.

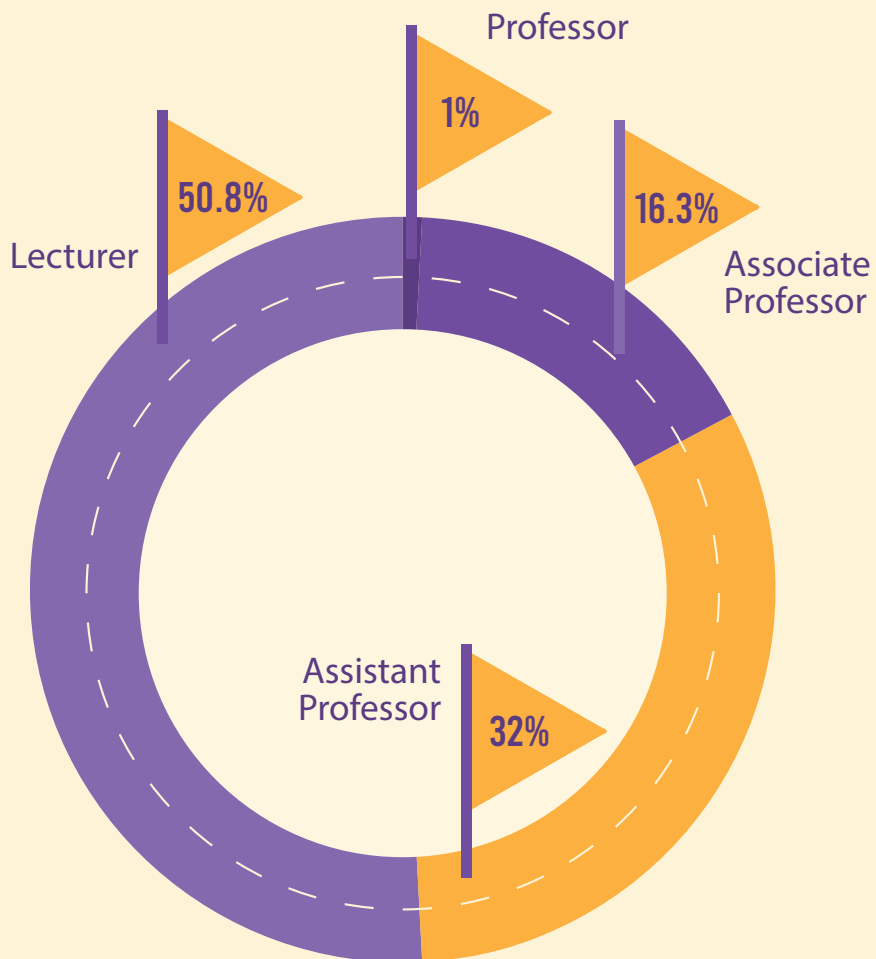

These achievements would not have been possible if not for the partnership that MUIC has forged with organizations, institutions, and industries throughout the year. These partnerships are the bedrock of progress, and we extend our gratitude to all collaborators who have joined hands with us in empowering our students to expand their potential. Such support has been instrumental in fostering an environment of collaboration and innovation. This coming year, we look forward to strengthening existing partnerships and forging new ones that will further enrich our academic landscape.
